

Containing the Freshest Advices, Foreign and Domestic.

Messieurs HALL and SELLERS, Please to insert the following in your useful Paper, and you will oblige your constant Reader.

OBSERVE, in the Pennsylvania Gazette, No. 2230, that his Excellency WILLIAM FRANKLIN, Esq; has issued a Proclamation, whereby we are informed of his Majesty's Royal Disallowance of two Acts of the Assembly of the Province of New-Jersey; one of which Acts authorized Justices of the Peace, in the said Province, to try and determine Actions of Debt, &c. of Ten Pounds, and under. As a Well-wisher to the Prosperity of the Province, I cannot but lament the Loss of so useful and beneficial a Law, which has been in Force near two Years, to the entire Satisfaction of the People (the Lawyers only excepted) particularly of those who it was executed upon, not one of whom, that I have heard of, has made the least Complaint against it. The small Cost that arises upon an Action before a Justice of the Peace, which, if Execution was granted and served, is but Six Shillings and Ninepence, or Seven Shillings and Three-pence, unless the Matter was contested, and even then rarely exceeded Twenty Shillings. The Advantage that accrued to the Public from this useful Law, may be deduced from a Number of Facts; Justices of the Peace being dispersed over the Province, consequently Suits were prosecuted at much less Expence to the Parties, than if they had been brought into the County Courts, the Courts being held, in some Counties, Forty or Fifty Miles from the extreme Parts of the County; the Loss of Time, and private Expences of the Parties, are very considerable; the unreasonable private Fees that the Attorneys too often demand, and the extravagant Bills of Cost which they charge, make every Cause that is brought into the County Courts, cost the poor Debtor at least Three Pounds more, than if it had been determined before a Justice of the Peace.

The Gentlemen of the Law say, that Disputes are not determined so well before a Justice of the Peace, as in the Upper Courts; but as few Appeals were brought, I must conclude, that Matters were generally settled according to Equity. In the County of Burlington there has not been one Appeal, that I have heard of, since this Law has been in Force, which proves, to a Demonstration, the Usefulness of the Law; for had the Parties been dissatisfied with the Justices Determinations of Disputes, they would undoubtedly have appealed. From the best Enquiry that I have made, there were between Eighty and One Hundred Actions brought before Justices of the Peace in the last Year, in the County of Burlington, where the Debt due, or Demand, has been from Six to Ten Pounds, and allowing Three Pounds saved to the Parties in each Action, which is below the Matter, and reckoning Ninety Actions in the County yearly, makes a Saving of Two Hundred and Seventy Pounds in the Year; and from the Proportion that Burlington County pays of the Sinking-fund Tax, there would be saved upwards of Two Thousand Pounds a Year in the Province, if this Law had continued in Force; a Sum nearly sufficient to support the Civil Government of the Province. This Calculation is made in the most favourable Manner, as I am persuaded Burlington County has as little Suing in it, for its Bigness, as any County in the Province, owing to its being one of the richest. I cannot find that there is any Law now in Force in the Province, that authorizes Justices of the Peace to determine an Action of Debt of One Shilling, and how long the Public will be satisfied, in this Situation, is not what I shall undertake to determine.

HAVING met with suitable encouragement from their country friends, and several others, that are dealers in flour, flaxseed, staves, lumber, &c. to carry the same from Wilmington to Philadelphia, take this method to inform the PUBLIC, that they are now provided with an extraordinary shallop for that purpose, and for the accommodation of passengers. Those that will please to employ them, may depend on kind usage, and the highest price given at market for their flour, &c. and money on the return of the shallop. They intend to keep coarse and fine salt, suitable for town or country. ¶ 8w.

[For more new ADVERTISEMENTS, see the fourth Page.]

By the LOAN HYDE PACKET, arrived at New-York, from Falmouth; and the ORANGE BAY, Captain SOMMERVILLE, arrived here in a short Passage from London, we have the following Advices, viz.

B A S T I A, July 14.

THE Brothers Granfoni, who headed a large Party of Banditti, have had a smart Engagement with the French Troops, in which much Blood was spilt; but we have not yet received the Particulars of that Action.

Stockholm, July 19. It is affirmed, that the Chiefs of the two divided Parties of the Nobility, have signed and sworn to an accommodation, and have given security for the performance of their agreement; so that their union may be depended upon; but to reconcile the other Orders will be a difficult task. The King has taken great pains to conciliate the divided Parties, but hitherto without any great effect. His Majesty gives audiences three times a week to those of his subjects who have any thing to lay before him. He listens with attention to all their complaints, and endeavours to redress their grievances. All who appear before him are charmed with his behaviour to them, and go away impressed with the strongest sentiments of affection and respect, to find so rare an example as a Monarch of twenty-five years of age, the Father, the Friend, and the Idol of his subjects.

Vienna, July 23. The Austrian troops have seized in Poland all the Palatinate of Cracovia, and the District of Sandmir. They are in possession of 234 villages, and 15 towns, and the reason our Court gives for this invasion is, that, having formerly a right to that part of Poland, she will not suffer the kingdom to be desolated, but will protect her subjects from the general combustion, till she can ascertain her right. General Torreck, who commands our troops in that country, fails not, as he advances, to oblige all the inhabitants to take the Oath of Fidelity as subjects of their Imperial Majesties. Some Polish Noblemen have made representations to Court upon this behaviour of General Torreck, but have met with no redress. The troops of a certain German Power are likewise advancing, but with what view is at present unknown.

Paris, July 19. It is affirmed, that the Confederates of Poland have sent here for a General Officer to command them, and that their request has been complied with.

Hague, July 26. Private letters from Vienna advise, that the Emperor and the King of Prussia will soon have another interview at Konigsgratz, in Bohemia, where it is pretended some very important affairs will be settled between them. These letters likewise say, that Count Degenfeldt, the Dutch Minister at Vienna, having represented to the Imperial Ministers the innovations that have been made with respect to the trade of the Low Countries, contrary to the Barrier Treaty, and the Tariff concluded between this Republic and the House of Austria, received for answer, that the predecessors of the Empress Queen were under such circumstances at the time when that treaty was made, that they were in a manner forced to subscribe to whatever was proposed, but that her Imperial Majesty being now more at liberty, she could not acquit herself to her subjects as a good Sovereign, if she had not made the alterations in question, and therefore their High Mightinesses must not take amiss that she could not revoke them, &c.

Frankfort, July 18. We learn from Straubingen, that some troops belonging to Saltzbourg and Bavaria are assembling in that neighbourhood, and that a body of troops is expected there from Austria. Twenty pieces of cannon have been sent the same way from the arsenal of Munich.

Vienna, July 20. We are assured that the Court of Petersburg has sent its ultimatum regarding a peace to the Porte, by the way of our Court and that of Berlin, and wait only for an answer, to appoint the place where the congress is to be held, which, it is said, will be either at Semlin or Hermanstadt.

We hear, that the conditions on which the Russians agree to conclude a peace, are, that Wallachia, Moldavia and Crimea, become independent of the Porte, and be governed by their own Hospodars or Governors.

M. Dzewitz, to revenge Branicki for the affair of the 22d of June, attacked M. Zarembo next day, who came off victorious as before; Dzewitz lost a number of men, besides 300 who were taken prisoners. On the other hand, Major-General Schütz attacked the garrison of Sarok, in which there were 300 Russians to guard a considerable magazine, the greatest part of whom he slew, and took possession of the magazine.

Frontiers of Poland, July 26. The Porte has published a Manifesto, to contradict the reports that prevailed of its having abandoned the interests of the General Confederacy, and the care of the affairs of Poland.

Petersburg, July 12. The garrison of Precop, consisting of 871 men, viz. 90 Officers, and 781 Turkish soldiers, finding themselves obliged to surrender at discretion, demanded and obtained to be carried by sea to Warnia, on condition not to bear arms during this war against the Russians. There were found in the fort 74 pieces of brass cannon, 56 of iron, 3 pateroskes, and 70 mortars. Our whole loss consists in 25 men killed, 135 wounded, besides 6 missing. That of the enemy exceeds 1200 men, either killed or wounded, besides 23 taken prisoners.

Before Prince Dolgorucki forced the lines of Precop, he had detached Prince Czerbatoff to take possession of Arabat, in marching by Genitsch, and the neck of land on the side of the sea of Azoff; and after the taking of Precop, he sent Major General Braun with another detachment to make himself master of Kof-toff; but the Turkish garrison did not wait his arrival, but demolished the fortification, embarked on board some vessels which were there, in order to repairs into their own country, so that General Braun took possession of the place without striking a stroke. The garrison of Arabat, however, consisting of between 700 and 800 men, held firm; but Prince Czerbatoff, attacking the fortress, carried it by assault, and the greater part of them were thus destroyed or made prisoners. In the mean time Prince Dolgorucki marched to within thirty five worries of Caffa, where he waits the coming in of the whole Tartar Nation to make their submission, and expects to finish his expedition into the Crimea in a fortnight or three weeks at farthest.

General Weissman's expedition beyond the Danube succeeded completely, he beat a corps of 5000 Turks near Tulcza, made 160 prisoners, burnt 30 vessels, and took 18 cannon.

The corps of Prince Repnin have quitted the Banks of the Danube, in order to draw the enemy on this side, and to cut them off.

The Field Marshal Count de Romanzow, by the last accounts was not far from Kabul, famous by the glorious battle on Aug. 1, 1770.

It is said this General has a design of passing a considerable detachment over the Danube, in order to gain a footing on the other side of that river.

The advices from Choczim fully confirm the news, that Prince Dolgorucki had forced the lines of the Ildmus and Peninsula of Crimea the 25th of June, and that the taking of the forts had been the immediate consequence.

Letters from Constantinople, by yesterday's mail, dated July 3, tell us, that their advices from Syria are very disagreeable. Ali Bey has published a Manifesto, in which he styles himself Sultan of Egypt, Successor to the Pharaohs, and Deliverer of the Land of Promise, Mecca, the Holy Land of the Turks. That the Pachas of Damas, Tripoli, Aleppo, and Kilie, with the Seraskier of Urfa, having assembled their forces to oppose his enterprises, after a most bloody engagement, in June, had been defeated, and, in consequence of it, Ali Bey had made a triumphal entry into the City of Damas.

Warsaw, July 31. We this moment learn that the Russians, under General Bawr, have retaken Giorwego from the Turks, and that a great number of the latter were made prisoners, and conducted to Choczim. The same express brings advice, that the Count de Romanzow had given orders for throwing bridges over the Danube, for the passage of the Russian army.

Vienna, August 1. A large body of Imperial troops is assembled in the neighbourhood of Buda. Forty thousand men will encamp at Pest in a few days, under the command of the Duke of Saxe-Teschen; and it is reported that the Emperor is expected there.

We are told, that in the course of the present month the Imperial Eagle will be displayed on the ramparts of Orfowa and Belgrade, instead of the Half-moon; and that Wallachia, Bosnia, and Serbia, will come under the dominion of the Emperor.

Hamburg, August 9. We have advice from Austria, that 5000 troops of that Arch-duchy have entered Bavaria, in order to bring the Elector to reason on the subject of the scarcity which is experienced at Ratisbon.

We have dreadful accounts of the plague from Smyrna, where it has raged since the beginning of the summer, inasmuch that that city is become almost a desert.

From Poland we learn, that in order to stop the progress of the plague, which has been communicated from Bender to the Polish Ukraine, and in particular to a village in the lordship of Human, belonging to Count Potocki, they have removed all the sick into the woods, and afterwards burnt the whole village.

Hague, August 15. The last letters from Constantinople say, that the Captain Pacha was preparing to sail from the Dardanelles with six ships of the line, twenty frigates, and other small vessels, with design to go in search of the Russian fleet. The final resolution of the Court of Petersburg was not yet arrived at the Porte, but hourly expected.

L O N D O N.

August 3. The report of an additional sum being offered to the pension of Lord Chatham, if he would join the present Ministry, is totally false.

It is said dispatches are preparing to be sent to Mr. Harris, the British Resident at Madrid, instructing him to demand of that Court the reason for their refusing to admit the British ships of war into their ports.

Private letters from Elsinore advise, that the King of Denmark, viewing with a jealous eye the affairs of the north, is putting his army in motion, and his navy on a respectable footing. Three ships of 60 guns are now building at that port.

The King of Prussia, Fry, lately arrived in the river, brings advice that some large Dutch vessels, laden, as is supposed, with naval stores, sailed into the harbour of Carthage the 10th ult. but that he was denied entrance.

They write from Madrid, that five regiments of Spanish infantry are now on their march to Cadiz, from the interior provinces, in order to be embarked for the Havana and La Vera Cruz.

According to letters from the Hague, the late interesting discoveries of the English towards the Southern continent, and among the Dutch Islands, are but little relished by their East-India Company.

August 8. A scheme is said to have been communicated last week to a Great Personage, which will add 200,000l. annually to the Crown, without the imposition of a single tax.

Some letters from Berlin mention, that a stop has been suddenly put to the warlike preparations of his Prussian Majesty, and that there is a talk of a considerable reduction of the troops being speedily to take place.

The Seaford and Crescent men-of-war are ordered round to Portsmouth to take on board troops for New-York. They are to be stationed on that coast for three years.

August 10. Thursday his Royal Highness the Duke of Gloucester took leave of their Majesties at St. James's, previous to his setting out on Sunday or Monday next for Portsmouth, to embark on board the Venus Frigate for the Straits.

The same Day the Baggage of General Hervey and Colonel Desaguliers was sent down to Portsmouth, to be put on board the above Frigate. They are to attend the Duke of Gloucester on his Voyage up the Mediterranean; who, it is whispered, will pay a Visit to the Doge and Senate of Genoa, with whom he has an important Commission to execute.

It is confidently reported, that a secret Expedition of Importance is now in Agitation between the States of Holland, and the Court of Berlin.

August 12. The general search and seizure of papers, on board the Endeavour frigate, was twice repeated, agreeable to an order of the Admiralty, with such rigid exactness, that nothing relating to the voyage can be published, except from memory only.

It has been observed, that the same causes which produced the misunderstanding between Spain and England, still subsist; and that the only cause which prevented that misunderstanding from becoming an open rupture, has in a great measure ceased.

It is reported that the Spanish Merchants are to have a meeting in a few days, to consider what is best to be done with respect to the late order of his Catholic Majesty, not to admit any British ships to enter the ports of his Kingdom.

Extract of a letter from Barcelona, dated July 17.

"Before the arrival of this packet you will probably have heard of the determination of our Court, in not permitting the anchoring of the vessels of foreign nations in our ports, under the pretence of their carrying off the specie of this country. The fact is much otherwise. The conservation of our Government suffers from the determination of the Moors to invade the provinces of Murcia and Grenada, with the small force that Spain has at this crisis to resist so formidable an attack, made some kind of embargo necessary in our Mediterranean ports, to conceal the imbecility of the Spanish Monarchy from the rest of Europe; and good policy, to conceal the real cause of our alarm, required the embargo should become general in our western ports. The alarm is universal. Our troops are worn out by constant duty upon the coast, harrassed with continual marches, enervated from want of discipline and real service, badly paid, and wretchedly clothed: Our only dependence, in case of action, is upon the Irish recruits we have received these two last years from your kingdom of Ireland."

Captain Stirling, of the Seaford man of war, is appointed to the command of his Majesty's ship Portland, of 50 guns, at Portsmouth.

August 15. Whatever may be said to amuse the public, it is very probable that no one man was the writer of the letters signed Junius. Though his name is not Legion, it may reasonably be supposed to be many.

Extract of a Letter from Vienna, dated August 2.

"The cause of the sudden coolness that has lately subsisted between the Imperial Court and the French King, and which daily increases, is now perfectly unravelled. Our Ambassador at Paris, bas, by his great abilities, diligence, and penetration, sent such information of the sneering and perfidy of the French, as not only clearly explains this mystery, but their whole political system for this last twelve months. With infinite pains and perseverance the French have laboured, for some time, to influence the Imperial Cabinet to collect the whole military force of the House of Austria in Hungary; to leave ungarrisoned all her fortified towns in Flanders, Germany, and Italy; and, with this vast army of Imperialists, to dictate terms of peace to Russia, and, if refused, to attack the Russians at the same instant they should be engaged with the Ottoman troops. France not only promised a magnificent subsidy for the charge of such a campaign, that must have expended so much treasure, for the marching of such an army from Flanders and the Milanese into the Turkish dominions; but likewise engaged, that the French and Spanish fleets, in the Mediterranean, should sail to the Levant, and unitedly attack the Russian fleet, as well as land a considerable body of troops in the Morea, and at the Dardanelles. Such were the promises of France, none of which she ever had the slightest idea of performing, excepting the embarkation of troops. They were to be landed indeed, not upon any part of the Turkish territories, but at Genoa; nor long to remain there in garrison. The Milanese being destitute of troops, such an opportunity was not to be lost. Mania was the object. Austria was supposed not to have any objection to such an operation, as it would owe the Venetians, and prevent their fleet uniting with the Russians, taking possession of the Morea for themselves, and having the advantage of defeating the Turks. This political object the French declared could not be obtained, if their fleet cruized in the Adriatic; for it was uncertain their being able to prevent the junction of the Russians and Venetians; and without the French fleet the Ottomans would be unequal even to the Russians alone. France well knew being in possession of Mania with a good garrison, and a line of troops extending to the mountains, she should prevent the return of the Austrians into the Milanese, and dictate to all Italy, except Piedmont."

"By the fidelity of some Germans in the French service, a discovery was made of the plan formed for seizing of Luxemburg, upon which expedition French battalions only were to be employed; the French Ministry being convinced there was no garrison at Luxemburg to oppose them, therefore, if their numbers were great, they might perhaps have resolution to succeed. The impossibility of employing the German battalions was obvious; for they would sooner revolt than march upon such a service, so dishonourable.

"Our Court is in the highest degree of agitation, and so much enraged, that it is expected the French Ambassador will be immediately ordered to leave Vienna, and conducted to the frontiers with the same marks of disgrace, as a French Minister was some years past from the Imperial Court of Petersburg."

A report prevails that the French Court are going to surrender the Island of Corfica to the Infant Duke of Parma, for a considerable sum of money, and that it is to be erected into a monarchy for the elder branch of that family.

A large sum of money is at present negotiating at Amsterdam, for the service of her Russian Majesty; the proposals are said to be extremely secure, and advantageous to the subscribers.

They write from Leghorn, that the Grand Signor has now an Ambassador at Venice, transacting business of great importance with that Republic.

Letters from all parts of the kingdom inform, that the ears of wheat are the largest ever remembered, that it is not yet however ripe for cutting, but that the rye harvest is begun almost every where.

August 20. We hear that two experienced Engineers are gone to Ireland, to take a survey of the state of the fortifications in that kingdom.

Orders are sent to Deptford for building four new frigates of 28 guns each.

At the feast at the Mansion-house last Tuesday, there were set on the tables in the Egyptian-hall, and in another room, 468 dishes, exclusive of the desert and confectionary.

It is known that within these few weeks not less than 3000 sheep have been privately sent to France.

The last letters from the Straights seem to hint, that it has been discovered that Ali Bey, the Conqueror of Egypt, is secretly assisted with arms, &c. by Russia.

Extract of a letter from Paris, August 8.

"It is given out as a fact, that there has been another engagement between the Corsican rebels and the regular troops, to the disadvantage of the latter, but not so considerable as the first. It is moreover said, that the Count d'Ennery, ancient Governor of Martinico, whom the King has just nominated Inspector General of the troops in that island, is to set out to-morrow for Marseilles, in order to embark there; and that he carries with him the recall of the Count de Marbœuf. Six hundred recruits are going to be sent off again for Corfica, which is looked upon as the grave of Frenchmen."

An alteration in the Ministry will certainly take place before the meeting of parliament.

We are assured from pretty good authority, that the change will first begin in the law department.

It may be depended on, that the Court of Madrid have just concluded a private treaty with the States General, in which it is expressed that the States General are to furnish that Court with 12 men of war of the line, on an emergency.

If we may judge from appearances, the Premier's power is certainly on the decline, as his levees are almost entirely deserted. The Duke of Grafton is certainly fixed on in case of a resignation.

The late intercourse between the Courts of Versailles and Madrid has been more close, and the dispatches more frequent, than any thing but some bad design could give occasion to. The internal dissensions in France are now drawing to a conclusion; the French King has got money from the Dutch at exorbitant interest; and these two circumstances, which may be regarded as the axis on which their whole system turns, being now changed in their favour, it is likely they will not lose much time longer in commencing their intended hostilities against Great Britain.

N E W - Y O R K, October 14.

On Wednesday the 2d Instant was held at Perth-Amboy, the annual Meeting of the Corporation for the Relief of the Widows and Children of Clergymen in the Communion of the Church of England in America; when a Sermon, adapted to the Occasion, was preached by the Rev. Dr. Chandler. His Excellency Governor FRANKLIN, and several Gentlemen of the first Rank among the Laity, who are Members of the Corporation, were so kind as to attend; and the Largeness of the Collection made, in Church, for the Use of that laudible Institution, is greatly to the Honour of the Congregation that were present.

By a Letter from Kingston, in Jamaica, we learn, that on the 3d of September, about Eight o'Clock in the Morning, they had a smart Shock of an Earthquake, which lasted near Half a Minute, and threw down the Tops of several Chimnies, but happily no Person was hurt; they had several smaller Shocks afterwards.

Yesterday the BRITANNIA, Captain FALCONER, arrived here from London, and brought Papers as late as the 27th of August; from which we have Time only to extract as follows.

P A R M A, July 25.

ON SUNDAY last, in the night, the Marchioness de Malspina, Grand Mistress of the Court, received a lettre de cachet, which ordered her to retire immediately to her seat at Pantero; another was sent to the Marquis de Paveri, Gentleman of the Bed-chamber, who is exiled to Caramelo; the Abbe Coppelotti and Don Rochet were brought from Colono, and sent to the new prisons of this city; Father Paciaudi, Library-keeper to the Infant Duke, was confined to his father, who is Superior of the House of St. Christina, with orders to that Superior to take care of him: The Intendant of the Post was likewise put under arrest, and orders were given to the Master of the Post-office not to furnish any body with horses or carriages, without an order from the Sovereign; and the Cavalry is ordered to form a line upon the frontiers of this Duchy. All these orders were signed by his Royal Highness, and sent to the Marquis de Felino to be put in execution. Advice of these proceedings has been sent to the Courts of France and Spain."

From the Frontiers of Hungary, July 28. The last advices from Wallachia agree in this one thing only, that there is not a Russian remaining in that Province; and that the Turks had taken possession of the posts they had abandoned on the left side of the Danube, below the mouth of the Pruth.

The Plague has appeared again at Bender, and in several villages in Moldavia.

Marfeilles, Aug. 9. Letters received in this place, dated the 20th of June, advise, that the Regent of Persia had ordered a number of troops to march to Georgia, in order to make a diversion in favour of the Turks.

Petersburgh, July 30. The Court has just published a circumstantial relation of the surprising success of the Imperial Army in the Crimea; whereby it appears that the loss of the enemy in the battle which was fought before the surrender of Caffa, amounted to upwards of 3500 men, who remained dead on the field, besides the drowned, and those who were slain in the pursuit, and on board the ships. The whole camp of the enemy fell into the hands of our troops; and amongst the immense booty which they made, there were 2000 tents, and 30 pieces of cannon. Our loss is only estimated at 50 men wounded.

Frankfort, Aug. 13. Some letters from Saxony mention, that the Greek Merchants established in that Electorate, have received advice, that the Russians had taken the fortress of Oczakow by storm.

Petersburgh, July 31. In the account published by authority of our late victory, gained by Prince Dolgorucki, under the walls of Caffa, we are informed, that immediately on our beginning to cannonade the port of Caffa, the Seraskier Ibrahim sent an Officer with a letter, offering to surrender the place upon allowing him his liberty, and also to his attendants; which being refused, except with respect to himself, to which he was obliged to consent, and our infantry being put in possession of the suburbs, and a regiment of hussars in that of the port, the Seraskier left the city, presented himself before Prince Dolgorucki, and surrendered up his scymitar to him; the Prince immediately returned it, in the name of the Empress, in consideration of his rank and age, which the Seraskier received as a particular favour, and shewed it by a torrent of tears.

Caffa is a very large city, and is very populous; but at Kretsch and Jenicola, the other places taken by our troops, are to be seen nothing but misery and destruction.

Warsaw, Aug. 7. The army of Field Marshal Count Romanzow, which is at Ibrailow, is preparing for some signal expedition, in order to avail themselves of the consternation of the Turks by their conquest of the Crimea.

L O N D O N, August 21.

It is asserted, that great dissention prevails among some great men in Administration, relative to the proceedings of our Court against the enemies of Great-Britain; one party are for spiritedly resisting, while the other are rather for palliatives.

The last accounts from Petersburg are, that the Empress has lately declared, that notwithstanding the progress of her arms, she is very ready to listen to reasonable terms of accommodation.

It is said that the fleet in the Mediterranean will be augmented with several capital ships, in consequence of some dispatches lately received from Gibraltar and Minorca.

Extract of a letter from Petersburg, July 28.

"We have just received accounts, that Prince Dolgorucki, after having defeated 27,000 Turks, under the walls of Caffa, took that fortress, and made the Seraskier and 1000 men prisoners; the rest of the garrison, with the Abbassa Bassa, made their escape in vessels. At the same time the Turks left the fortress of Jenicola, and the castle of Kretsch, which commands the entrance of the lake of Azof and the Black Sea. In the fortress were found 70 pieces of cannon, and a large magazine of provisions and arms. Prince Dolgorucki has now nothing further to do than to take the fortress of Balacklaw, the strongest in all Crimea, to be master of the whole peninsula. Her Imperial Majesty assisted this morning at the Te Deum, which was sung in the Cathedral of St. Peter and Paul for their new victories."

August 22. Letters from Holland by Tuesday's mail say, that there are great dissentions there amongst the people, on account of a treaty lately entered into with the King of Prussia; by which the Dutch are obliged to raise a certain number of troops for that monarch's service, whenever called upon so to do, and to be at the expence of equipping and paying them during the campaign.

It is mentioned as a proof of the present Minister's permanency, that the business of government does not require the meeting of a Great Assembly till after Christmas holidays.

Aug. 23. It was again rumoured yesterday, that a total change of the Ministry will speedily take place; that some persons at present in opposition, are to come into Administration, and that an agreeable coalition will certainly be effected between both parties.

The Duke of Northumberland, we are assured, will, before Christmas, fill a very considerable post in the Ministry: In this, it seems, the Ministry sacrifice their inclinations for some political reasons.

The Spaniards, it is said, are already preparing memorials against the establishment which our Court intends making on the delightful borders of the Mississippi; as if we have not a right to act as we please upon our own dominions, and must continue the finest American territory we possess, an absolute desert, for fear of disobliging his Catholic Majesty.

Orders are sent down to Chatham, for all the men of war lying in the river Medway to have their masts standing.

August 26. The persons who were taken up for being concerned in setting fire to the store-houses in Portsmouth Dock Yard, on Friday last, passed an examination of three hours before the Secretaries of State; Sir John Fielding also attended, but nothing further has yet transpired.

A capital offender, it is said, is to have his pardon for discovering how, and by whom, the above fire happened.

Orders are gone down to all the out-ports, for augmenting the crews of the guard-ships to their middle complements.

Mr. Banks is to have two ships from Government to pursue his discoveries in the South Seas, and will sail upon his second voyage next March.

Letters from Monaco, dated August 9, give us a report that the King of Sardinia, in consideration of his great age, had taken the resolution to surrender his Crown into the hands of the Hereditary Prince, his eldest son. His present Majesty was born on the 27th of April, 1701, and ascended the throne on the resignation of his father, on the 30th of September, 1730.

It is again reported, that the Right Hon. Thomas De Grey, Esq; is going to resign, on account of his bad state of health.

We are informed that the Majority have acquiesced to several popular measures proposed towards a coalition, but that many others have been rejected by them.

A report prevails at the Coffee-houses about the Change, that a treaty, of an important nature, has been lately negotiated, between the Republic of Genoa, and the Court of Madrid.

Aug. 27. Yesterday morning, at 3 o'clock, an express arrived at the house of Count de Guigne, the French Ambassador, in Great George-street, from France, and at half past five the same morning his Excellency set off for that kingdom.

Count de Guigne, previous to his departure, sent a message to the Spanish Ambassador, informing him of his real.

The abrupt departure of the French Ambassador occasions a variety of conjectures.

Monsi. Garnier, Secretary to Count de Guigne, now acts as Charge d'Affaires for the Court of France.

TO BE SOLD BY VENDUE,

On Tuesday, the 29th of this instant October, on the premises,
THE plantation of JOSEPH SCOTT, deceased, situate in Warwick township, Bucks county, containing 70 acres, 40 acres cleared, 7 whereof are meadow, the remainder woodland; there is an extraordinary good spring, and is a good place for a Tanner, or other tradesman. The sale to begin at two o'clock, when the title, and terms of sale, will be made known, by WILLIAM and MARGARET SCOTT, Executors. ¶

TO BE SOLD,

THAT most agreeably situated and valuable FARM, (late Mr. Sagar's) in New-Jersey, where the subscriber now lives, on the river Delaware, about two miles below Trenton Falls. The whole farm contains about 360 acres of land, 154 of which is excellent low meadow, in fine improvement, and divided into eight several fields, well fenced, and the whole dry enough for any kind of grain or hemp, for which the soil is particularly adapted. The cleared upland contains about 120 acres, properly divided, and in good fence. The remainder is very good wood and timber land, a very fine outlet or range for cattle and horses, both above, and on the river below. The orchard is large, thrifty, and of the best grafted fruit, both for cyder and house use. The garden is large, neat, well inclosed, and stored with a variety of the very best table fruit. The house, barn, stables, smoke-house, and other out-houses, are all in good repair. About 200 tons of hay, with about 50 acres of wheat and rye in the ground, will also be disposed of, if chose, together with several farming Negroes, men, women and children, bleeding mares, young and old horses, a large flock of cattle, hogs, sheep, and farming utensils of all kinds, &c. boats, net, &c. there being some valuable fisheries on the river, within the lines. The elegant situation of this place, and the noble prospect it commands, both for extent of view, as well as lawn and water scenes, must ever recommend it as a seat to any gentleman of taste, and for sport none excels; particularly for the gun and angling, in the different seasons; many other advantages attend it both as a valuable and profitable farm, as well as a genteel seat, that are too numerous to be described here, and better understood on a view of the premises; which, if not fold within six months from the date, will be then leased for a term of years. If the purchase money be well secured, and interest regularly paid, the principal may remain 8 or 10 years, if agreeable, or more. WILLIAM PIDGON.
